MEDICAL COLLEGE OF PENNSYLVANIA

MCP

The Medical College of Pennsylvania

hiladelphia, the largest city of the state and the fifth most populous of the country, is historically known as the birthplace of American Independence. It was here that the Declaration of Independence was adopted and the U.S. Constitution was written. The city served as the U.S. capital from 1790 to 1800.

Philadelphia was founded in 1682 by William Penn who envisioned a place where men would live in complete religious, political, and intellectual freedom. The name Philadelphia is derived from two Greek words meaning "brotherly love".

The city has many prominent historic landmarks beginning with the Independence National Historic Park, which includes not only Independence Square, the site of Independence Hall, Congress Hall, the Liberty Bell, and the Supreme Court Building, but also Carpenter's Hall, and the First and Second Banks of the United States. Also in the area are Elfreth's Alley, the oldest continuously occupied street in America, the Betsy Ross House, and Pennsylvania Hospital, the first hopsital in the country.

Center City's most prominent landmark is City Hall on which construction was begun in 1871 and completed in 1901. The French Renaissance style building, topped by a 37 ft bronze statue of William Penn, would remain the tallest building in the city at 548 ft for 86 years until the completion of One Liberty Place in 1987 at 945 ft.

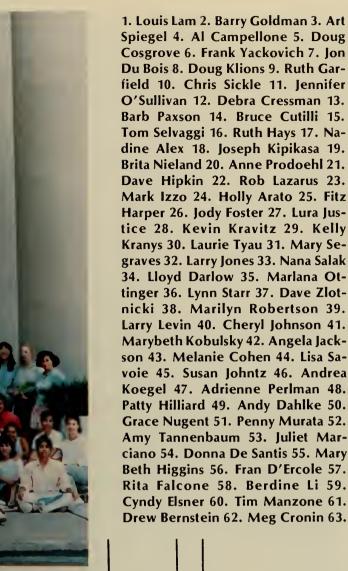

The city's most well-known landmark is the Philadelphia Museum of Art which opened in 1928. The Greco-Roman building, at the gateway to Center City, houses nearly 100,000 works of art of the Medieval, Renaissance, and Contemporary periods. Nearby is the Rodin Museum where Rodin's "Thinker" sits at the entrance.

The city's other landmarks include America's oldest zoo, Fairmount Park, the largest municipal park in the country, the Franklin Institute, Penn's Landing, and Boathouse Row.

Finally, Philadelphia rivals Boston in facilities for medical education with 6 medical schools, as well as schools in podiatry, optometry, dentistry, and pharmacy.

Success

To laugh often and much; to win the respect of intelligent people and affection of children; to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty, to find the best in others; to leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch or a redeemed social condition; to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived. This is to have succeeded.

To CHRIS — my best friend & husband (& housekeeper!) — We've finally made it! My name may be the one on the diploma, but it's been a joint venture all along. You've been patient, kind, & loving from the start. I can't imagine enduring it without you. Thanks for being you — & being mine! The honeymoon may be long past but our life has just begun I love you!!!

To MOM & DAD —
Thanks!!!
Thanks for your love,
your support,
and most of all
thanks for the faith
that you had in me
to allow me
to pursue whatever paths
I've wanted to choose ...
...! love you both!!!

Dear LORD,

I'm a physician now. What an awesome responsibility! You gave me the ability & the motivation — and now it's time for me to start paying some of that back.

Help me always to keep the needs of my patients ahead of my own needs. Help me to always stay compassionate and caring despite the temptation to become hardened. Help me to stay humble in a field that breeds conceit. Help me to keep my priorities firm so that I don't ignore the needs of my family. Most of all, help me to give back to the world some of the joys and blessings of life that have been given to me.

Amen

To those I love, for bringing meaning to my life:

To Mom and Dad, for your support, encouragement, and love; for helping me to keep all things in perspective.

To Pat, Sean, and Brian, my brothers, for helping me keep my feet firmly on the ground.

To Grandpa, for your letters, your love, your confidence and pride in me; for your wisdom.

To my good friends, Patty, Cindy, Laurie, Lisa, Juliet, MB, Barb, and Jen, for making me laugh; for always being there; for making medical school a lot less painful.

To Tom, my best friend, my confidant, my fiance, for being my hope and my inspiration; for loving me.

To God, for enabling me to become a physician; for the health and happiness of my family and friends; for a beautiful future.

May I always make you proud.

I love you.

Dear Dave:

5/21/86

I ask Mom regularly about you and what's happening, so she's kept me up on your triumphs and trials here. Besides the credits, has this experience in school been beneficial to you as a person? Are you a better person because of it? I was wondering how it's affected your life?

Mom has a saying: Whatever doesn't kill me makes me strong. That is I believe, a very succinct characterization of medical school. The rewards are very great.

FOOTPRINTS

One night a man had a dream. He dreamed he was walking along the beach with the Lord. Across the sky flashed scenes from his life. For each scene, he noticed two sets of footprints in the sand; one belonged to him, and the other to the Lord.

When the last scene of his life flashed before him, he looked back at the footprints in the sand. He noticed that many times along the path of his life there was only one set of footprints. He also noticed that it happened at the very lowest and saddest times of his life.

This really bothered him and he questioned the Lord about it. "Lord, you said that once I decided to follow you, you'd walk with me all the way. But I have noticed that during the most troublesome times in my life, there is only one set of footprints. I don't understand why when I needed you most you would leave me."

The Lord replied, "My precious, precious child, I love you and I would never leave you. During your times of trial and suffering, when you see only one set of footprints, it was then that I carried you."

People who claim to know jack rabbits will tell you they are primarily motivated by Fear, Stupidity, and Craziness. But I have spent enough time in jack rabbit country to know that most of them lead pretty dull lives; they are bored with their daily routines: eat, fuck, sleep, hop around a bush now & then ... No wonder some of them drift over the line into cheap thrills once in a while; there has to be a powerful adrenalin rush in crouching by the side of the road, waiting for the next set of headlights to come along, then streaking out of the bushes with split-second timing and making it across to the other side just inches in front of the speeding front wheels. — HST

"It's Bob, all right . . . but look at those vacuous eyes, that stupid grin on his face — he's been domesticated, I tell you."

Few people understand the psychology of dealing with a highway traffic cop. Your normal speeder will panic and immediately pull over to the side when he sees the big red light behind him... and then we will start apologizing, begging for mercy.

This is wrong. It arouses contempt in the cop-heart. The thing to do — when you're running along about a hundred or so and you suddenly find a red-flashing CHP-tracker on your trail — what you want to do then is accelerate.

HOUSESTAFF

A definite case of diabetes insipidus.

So that's a positive Thruckmortin sign.

She makes me ketotic.

FYBIGMI

Oh no ... I got some in my eye.

This is the first time we've stood up today.

"Wise-men" preparing a future cadaver for the freshmen.

"U.N. meeting in the SICU"

Was that Fallulah Jones or Bealah Jones?

Are you sure this will stop my nosebleed?

Zzzzzzzzzz ...

... half pepperoni and half mushrooms.

That's O.K. Bob, my braces don't conduct.

Come here little girl, want some candy?

This is my uncle ... Martin

I'm tall, good looking ... and HIV negative.

"Four years with me and he still can't cut his food."

We still haven't found the father.

"Sorry sir, your wife and unborn child are dead."

"I've gotten my H & P's down to four words."

Dear Carol,

Hold Fast your dreams! Within your heart Keep one still, secret spot Where dreams may go, And, sheltered so, May thrive and grow Where doubt and fear are not.

O keep a place apart, Within your heart, For little dreams to go!

LOUISE DRISCOLL

Love you every day girl, Always on our mind, One thing we can say girl, Love you all the time. (The Beatles)

Leslie, Mom, Dad, and all!

Dearest Kelly:

Twenty-six years ago we saw you for the first time, and marveled at what we had created — today we see you for the first time as a physician, and marvel at what you have created! We love you and honor you on this graduation day —

Mom & Dad

Dear Kelly,

Congratulations, at last you have reached the goal that you have always dreamed of,

and I hope you know just how proud we all are of you, and what a wonderful, kind sister you have aiways been. I hope all the drive, and determination you have put forth finally has rewarded you with the success and life that you have always dreamed of. Good luck in all that may come to you! Thanks for being our one and only "Dr. Kranys." — Love, Megan

Dear Kelly:

Today is the day you finally get recognition for having the ambition, not to mention the intelligence to achieve something many people only dream of. So it's only fitting for me to express how proud I am to call you my sister. You've come so far in the past 8 years, but it's only the beginning of a career that I'm sure will make a great contribution to the field of medicine. Congratulations Dr. Kranys — Love, Moliy YeeeeeeeHaa You did It — ail your hard work is about to pay off. After ail this time you can now say I am a doctor, rather than I want to be a doctor. Amazing the difference between those two expressions. One is simply a thought, while the other denotes years of drive, determination and being on the RJK payroii. So, off you go on a challenging and surely prosperous career — just don't cut yourself!

Love & Smooches, Kimmy.

sincere good wishes for your continued success."

Rosaline R. Joseph, M.D. '53 President, Alumnae/i Association

It all began in '59 On a dark and snowy night. Our son was born, his name was Lloyd He put up quite a fight.

He looked like his dad, they said Right from the very start. The only question never answered Was, "how did he get so smart?"

Good grades he got throughout the years We came to just expect it. Bar Mitzvah was his first big test The critics scored a great big hit.

Graduations came and went He always gave us pleasure. One day he even brought us home A little girl, a treasure.

Mom and Dad

The first day we met I will always remember. This man had no watch It happened in November.

Three years later we were married Off to Dental School you went. Those first years together Were very happily spent.

Greater things were meant for you It was Medical School this time. We even made it through those years When we didn't have a dime.

If Kyle could write this poem I'm sure that he would say. You're the best dad ever Today and every day.

Sharon and Kyle

No matter what the future brings Our love will always be with you. To sum it up, in conclusion We're all glad you're finally through.

The Family

Congratulations to Dr. LLOYD DARLOW

May you have a happy, healthy and successful future.

NICHOLETTE

You have every reason to be proud!
of what you've done,
The goals that you've achieved
and the success that you have won —

And you have every reason to pursue the goals you've set. With a feeling of assurance that they can and will, be met.

CONGRATULATIONS
